Sheboygan County 4-H Dairy Project Opportunities in Dairy

- Sheboygan County Dairy Managerial Program - Similar to the Horseless Horse Program. This allows youth who don't live on farms to participate in the dairy project. Youth who have grade cattle can show other farms' registered cattle through this program. This program is for both County and State Fair.
- 4-H Club Dairy Project Meetings - These meetings are held within your club. Club's adult and youth leaders hold meetings to teach members about their dairy project.
- County-Wide Dairy Project Meetings - Meetings are held several times each year and planned by the Dairy Committee. Club project leaders can bring their club members or members may come individually. Meeting notices are in the CLOVERLEAF CRIER.
- Area Animal Science Day - Members from the Eastern Counties in Wisconsin attend. 4-H Members participate in dairy poster, dairy judging and dairy showmanship contests.
- 4-H & Jr. Holstein Dairy Bowl - This is a statewide contest held in the summer. County teams answer dairy project questions. Dairy Bowl is a fun way to learn more about dairy. Watch the CRIER for more information. Attendance at 50% of the 4-H or Junior Holstein Association dairy quiz bowl practices and participation at the state 4-H or Junior Holstein Quiz Bowl contest will count as 1 qualifying meeting for the Wisconsin State Fair or Sheboygan County Fair. Individuals must be members of the respective organization to participate.
- State Fair - Wisconsin State Fair is held in early August. Sheboygan County sends 25-35 head of cattle. To qualify for State Fair a member must attend a certain number of meetings.
- 4-H Dairy Judging - Judging teaches the skills to select cattle for showing, culling and breeding. Through practices teams are selected to participate at the Area Animal Science Day. Attendance at 50% of the 4-H judging practices and participation in the district Area Animal Science Days contest will count as 1 qualifying meeting for the Wisconsin State Fair or Sheboygan County Fair.
- Sheboygan County Jr. Holstein Association - The Sheboygan County Junior Holstein Association is open to any interested dairy project members (you don't have to have registered Holsteins). First year membership is free! Some activities include monthly/bi-monthly meetings, fund raising events, Jr. State Convention, tours and much, much, more! For more information contact the Sheboygan County Holstein Association.

Special Awards

- Sheboygan County Holstein Association Scholarship - This scholarship is offered yearly to high school seniors that are continuing their education in an ag-related field. Some of the criteria includes: WI Jr. Holstein Association member for at least two years, accomplishments in the dairy project and with registered Holstein cattle.
- Sheboygan County Outstanding Jr. Holstein Member - Selected yearly by the Sheboygan County Holstein Association Board, based on involvement and interest in the dairy project/industry, leadership, participation in the Jr. Holstein Association and interest in Registered Holstein cattle.

Sheboygan County 4-H Dairy Project County Fair

The Sheboygan County Fair is where 4-H members exhibit their cattle that they have worked on for their 4-H or FFA project.

Exhibitors should participate in both of the following two areas.

- Cattle Judging - The exhibitor leads their calf or cow in the show ring for a judge to evaluate. The exhibitor is awarded a blue, red, white or pink ribbon.
 - Showmanship - This is judging the fitting of the calf, including its cleanliness and clip job. The exhibitor is also judged on the ability to make the animal look its best and the exhibitor's knowledge of their project.
- Qualifying Meeting - Dairy project members must attend one (1) county-wide approved project meeting to be a member in good standing and to exhibit at the Sheboygan County Fair. Members will sign-in at meetings for proof-of-attendance. For out-of-county meetings, pre-approval must be received by the 4-H Dairy Committee. Please see project calendar for a list of qualifying meetings.
 - Herdsmanship - This is the way the club displays their animals in the barn. Points are awarded for decorations, cleanliness of animals and barn area, and sportsmanship.
 - Educational Display - In addition to herdsmanship, clubs have the opportunity to develop a display to educate the public regarding the impact of dairy. Participating in the Educational Display is optional and separately judged from barn herdsmanship.
 - Identification Forms (Dairy ID's) - All animals shown at the county fair have completed an I.D. Sheet, and returned to the UW-Extension Office by June 1, of each project year. Animals may be identified by family or farm. Dairy superintendents will use the ID Sheets to check in animals at County Fair.
 - All rules in the Sheboygan County Fair Premium website should be read carefully and strictly adhered to. These rules are made to help 4-H and FFA members and their families with their dairy project work. Fair superintendents police these rules.
 - County Fair Thank You Letters – Dairy Exhibitors receiving an award at County Fair must turn in a thank you letter for the award sponsor by Thursday, September 13th either to an adult Dairy Committee member or to the UW-Extension Office. Thank yous must be addressed, stamped and include class for the award. Failure to have thank you turned in will result in not being able to show dairy at the next County Fair. Correct postage for your thank you is required!
 - Sheboygan County Dairy Managerial Program - Similar to the Horseless Horse Program. This allows youth who don't live on farms to participate in the dairy project. Youth who have grade cattle can show other farms' registered cattle through this program. This program is for both County and State Fair. If an exhibitor shows an animal from a different farm, it is encouraged exhibitors complete the "Sheboygan County Dairy Management Program" form for their records. Youth from non-farm residences are welcome to participate in the dairy project.

Sheboygan County 4-H Dairy Project State Fair

- The exhibitor must be a 4-H member, in a FFA Chapter or a State Breed Association. Youth are selected through the 4-H Dairy Committee based on their participation in countywide meetings and programs, and the quality of their animal.
- To qualify for State Fair, the exhibitor must:
 1. Call or email Katie by May 1st to let her know if going to State Fair.
 2. Attend one countywide or approved workshop - which are noted on the dairy project calendar.
 - For those events not listed but would like to use as a qualifying meeting (e.g. Nasco Fitting and Showmanship Clinic, another County 4-H sponsored workshop, Jr. Holstein and/or FFA event, etc.) activity can be pre-approved for credit by the 4-H Dairy Committee.
 - An “Educational Credit Form for Non-Dairy Committee Sponsored Programs” must be taken to the event and signed by the event coordinator. Forms are available from the UW-Extension Office or online at <http://sheboygan.uwex.edu/4-h-youth-development/4-h-projects/4-h-dairy-project/> and must be acquired prior to attending the event or activity.

If selected for State Fair, attendance at the June (T.B.A. watch Cloverleaf Crier) State Fair Planning Meeting is required.

- Beginning in 2016 there will no longer be ownership date deadlines or specific name requirements for exhibitors entering and showing registered animals in the junior breeding stock shows and all non-market animal shows.

The updated ownership verbiage eliminates the formal Wisconsin State Fair managerial paper submission and any previous registration transfer dates. Junior exhibitors must submit Fair entries by the June 1 entry deadline online at <http://wistatefair.com/competitions/junior-livestock/> or by mailing a paper entry postmarked June 1 or before. Please note: for 2018 there will be only entry deadline date for mailed and online entries at regular fees (June 1). Late entries will be accepted for additional fees through June 8.

Also, youth will now be required to list a potential substitution entry for each animal entered at the time of entry, in case the official animal entered is unable to be exhibited at the annual Fair. Substitutions will only be allowed from animals declared as such on initial entry.

“It is our intent to make the process of entering and exhibiting at the Wisconsin State Fair more inclusive,” said Brian Bolan, Wisconsin State Fair Agriculture and Youth Programs Director. “Although existing ownership and managerial rules were similar to industry standards, we felt a great amount of time was being spent on determining who owned an entry or submitting an official managerial document for breeding stock. We believe these program updates will make it easier for youth to participate with their breeding animal projects without the hassle of ownership deadlines and managerial documentation.”

Additional 2018 entry and schedule information will be available beginning in late January at <http://wistatefair.com/competitions/junior-livestock/> or by contacting the Wisconsin State Fair Agriculture Department at entryoffice@wistatefair.com.

The 2021 Wisconsin State Fair, presented by U.S. Cellular, will take place Thursday, Aug. 5 – Sunday, Aug. 15. The Wisconsin State Fair offers a unique experience to all who attend and is an exceptional value with 30 FREE entertainment stages, exciting rides and games in SpinCity, thousands of animals, endless family activities, events, contests, vendors and culinary delights. For the most up-to-date information, “stick with us” at WiStateFair.com, /WiStateFair on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and Pinterest and /theWIFair on YouTube.

- Any youth needing to leave State Fair must submit a letter requesting to do so prior to the event, and receive approval from the 4-H Dairy Committee. Youth must be transported to and from State Fair by their parent/guardian only.

10 Commandments For Show Ring Parents

"I don't care if your arm drops off, hold his head up," an impatient dad yelled at his nine-year-old just before the tearful child entered the show ring. The youngster had complained his arm was tired. He was small and had to hold his arm high to get the animal in proper position.

How many battles have been fought about how an animal should be shown or groomed? Who should clean the stalls or do the chores? It often takes more time and energy to supervise an eager young show person than to do the job yourself. But we parents need to teach our children the necessary skills to compete in the show ring and gradually increase their responsibilities as they grow. If not, we fail as show ring parents.

These 10 commandments for show ring parents may not make you perfect, but, if followed, will elevate you with your children, their friends and the judges you will meet along the way.

1. Thou shall know the rules. There are written and unwritten rules regarding the showing of animals. Topping the list of written rules: Be courteous at all times and never lose your temper.
2. Thou shall allow your children to do their project themselves. Obviously when a child is eight, nine, or ten years old, a parent is going to do much of the work. However, there is a gradient when the youngster starts doing more and taking more responsibility.

The most common complaint young people voice is that some parents do all the prep work, only turning the halter over to the child when it is time to enter the show ring. Some parents even hire a professional to fit their children's animals. This practice is more unfair to the coddled child than it is to the youngster who has done their own work. How can a child learn if their parent does not give them the opportunity to develop?

The Laramie County, Wyoming Fair Board has a rule that a child can be disqualified from the show if they receive fitting assistance from their parents. When asked about the nine-year-old first-timer, a veteran 4-H'er said the child should learn at home and the older club members should help them at the show. Encourage your children to offer help if someone needs an extra show person or a hand fitting their animals.

3. Thou shall be supportive and involved. To the other extreme, some parents believe there should be no parental involvement. That is unrealistic. The breakdown of many American families can be directly related to families having nothing in common. A 4-H project can bring the entire family together with a common goal. Parents often can learn as much as their children.

At home, parents can help with training, feeding and care as the youngster learns and grows. At the show, parents can give advice if they see the judge is looking for something in particular in the show ring. Parents make great bucket-carriers, runners for something forgotten, and animal holders. Most importantly, they can give a word of encouragement when it is most needed.

4. Thou shall allow your children to participate in as many shows as possible. Experience is the best teacher. Nothing builds more confidence. Many breed associations and 4-H and FFA groups sponsor showmanship workshops. These activities give your child an opportunity to gain valuable experience.

5. Thou shall provide proper equipment. Fancy or expensive equipment does not determine a winner in the show ring, but appropriate equipment is a necessary part of showing livestock.

Many exhibitors build their own show boxes and make their own rope halters. Some even build their own blocking chutes. You can purchase used clippers, blowers, brushes and combs at dispersal auctions.

6. Thou shall keep your attitude in check. Your attitude on show day can temper how your youngster performs. If they are worrying about Mom and Dad being upset, they can't concentrate on what they ought to be doing. It is as important for a parent to be a good sport as it is for a child.

7. Thou shall not be a show ring sideline director. Parents standing on the sidelines giving instructions to their child are distracting to other exhibitors and the judge. Your child is better off doing it on their own and making their own mistakes. That is how they learn.

8. Thou shall not complain about the judge. You do not have to agree with a judge's opinion, but you should try to see his perspective. Even if you can't, don't complain. Remember there are other shows and different judges.

9. Thou shall not disparage the competition. Make sure you and your children are getting the job done the right way. If others are not behaving in a suitable manner, they will cause their own demise. Never make negative comments about the competitor or their animal.

10. Thou shall honor your child. Now and then a parent who is really good at showing and fitting cannot seem to keep from doing the work themselves. Criticizing a child for not doing it exactly the way you would is not constructive. It takes away the child's self-esteem and the learning experience of doing it themselves.

We parents must remember the show ring is not just for prize animals; it is the show place for the finest young people in America.

The Purebred Dairy Cattle Association
Show Ring Code of Ethics
Adopted April 3, 2004

The showing of registered dairy cattle stimulates and sustains interest in the breeding registered dairy cattle. It is also an important part of the promotion, merchandising and breeding program of many breeders. For these reasons, the Purebred Dairy Cattle Association (PDCA) believes that it is in the best interest of all breeders of registered dairy cattle to maintain a reputation of integrity in dairy cattle shows and to present a wholesome and progressive image of dairy cattle in the show ring.

PDCA endorses this Show Ring Code of Ethics for all dairy breed shows and pledges its full cooperative support for its enforcement to show management, show judges, and the national breed associations.

The application of this Code of Ethics provides for absolute responsibility for an animal's condition by an owner, exhibitor, fitter or participant whether or not he or she was actually instrumental in or had actual knowledge of the treatment of the animal in contravention of this Code of Ethics. Dairy cattle exhibitors shall at all times deport themselves with honesty and good sportsmanship.

It is recognized that there are certain practices in the proper care and management of dairy cattle that are necessary in the course of moving dairy cattle to and between shows that are advisable to keep them in a sound, healthy state so they might be presented in the show ring in a natural, normal condition. At all times, exhibition livestock shall be treated in a humane manner and in accordance with dairy quality assurance practices so as to protect the health, safety and welfare of the livestock and the consuming public. No person shall present for exhibition or exhibit an animal which he or she knows, or has reason to suspect, is affected with or has been exposed to a dangerously contagious or infectious disease, disease, or illegal or non-approved use of drugs, medication and/or prohibited substance, or residue.

The position of the Purebred Dairy Cattle Association is that all animals presented for exhibition shall be in their natural conformation and structure, free of any alteration or modification by injection or internal or external administration of any substance or by any involvement in unethical fitting.

Grooming and Preparation

Dairy cattle exhibitions are conducted under standards for evaluating conformation established by the PDCA Unified Score Card (1994), with specific breed characteristics taken into consideration by the show judge. In this connection, animals will be groomed and prepared for the judge's evaluation in order to display the animal's natural contour, conformation, performance and mobility. Specifically:

1. External applications of cosmetics that affect only appearance may be used, including by way of example hoof polishes and false switches.
2. The maximum allowable length of naturally growing hair anywhere on the topline is not to exceed 1". Exhibitors will be required to comply with this rule before the animal is allowed to enter the ring.
3. Addition of foreign objects, including but not limited to hair or hair substitutes, cloth or fiber, to change the natural contour or appearance of the animal's body is prohibited.
4. Externally sealing the teat end with a preparation that does not harm the animal's skin is permissible. Natural teat placement will be given preference over artificially positioned teats.

Violations: False, Deceptive or Unacceptable Practices

These practices are violations of the Code of Ethics and will be reported to show management and may be reported to the respective national breed associations:

1. Misrepresenting the age and/or milking status of the animal for the class in which it is shown.
2. Treating the animal, particularly the udder, internally or externally:
 - a. with an irritant or counter-irritant,
 - b. using a device to artificially create or enhance the udder crease,
 - c. using other substances as detected by testing that causes changes in the udder to artificially improve the conformation.
 - d. plugging of teat canal with foreign substances.
3. Surgical or unethical insertion of any matter under the skin or into body cavities, performed to change the natural contour or appearance of the animal's body (i.e., administration of fluid via a stomach tube or other similar apparatus to fill the rumen), though not to preclude practices required or involved in normal management.
4. Criticizing or interfering with the judge, show management or other exhibitors while in the show ring or other conduct detrimental to the breed or the show.
5. Challenging, threatening or interfering with an ethics committee appointed by show management to monitor the animals on exhibit on the show grounds.

Exhibitor Responsibility

The act of entering an animal in a livestock show is the giving of consent by the owner, exhibitor, fitter and/or absolutely responsible person (hereinafter referred to as "Exhibitor") for show management to obtain any specimens of urine, saliva, blood, milk, or other substances from the animal to be used in testing. Materials may also be collected by ultrasound and photographic methods and by direct examination of animal.

The act of entering an animal is the giving of consent by the owner, exhibitor, fitter and/or absolutely responsible person (the "Exhibitor") to have disciplinary action for violation of this Show Ring Code of Ethics taken by show management, the state in which the show occurs, and/or the national dairy breed association without recourse.

Show Ethics Committee

Each show should have an Ethics Committee. The make-up of this committee should include official breed representatives, representative(s) of show management (e.g., dairy cattle show superintendent, General Manager), the official show veterinarian, and Extension representative.

The Ethics Committee will be responsible for monitoring violations of the Show Ring Code of Ethics. The Ethics Committee will investigate the report of any violation and determine the accuracy of the allegation. The Ethics Committee will have the authority to inspect animals and related material to determine if violations have occurred.

Violations: Reporting and Investigation

Complaints of alleged violations can be reported to the breed superintendent, the show superintendent, show management, and/or the Ethics Committee.

Before An Animal is Shown

If the Ethics Committee suspects that a violation of the Show Ring Code of Ethics will occur if the animal is shown, and that violation is reasonably well established before the animal is shown, the Ethics Committee will submit a report to show management.

Show management will discuss the violation with the Exhibitor:

1. If, at the Exhibitor's discretion, the animal in question is not shown, no violation will have occurred.
2. If the Exhibitor wishes to challenge that a violation occurred, he/she/they will have opportunity to appeal to the Ethics Committee. If its decision is not changed, the Exhibitor will be denied opportunity to exhibit the animal in question.

During and After An Animal is Shown

All animals are subject to examination during judging. The judge and Ethics Committee are instructed to examine the top five (5) animals in each class closely for violations of the Show Ring Code of Ethics. When a violation may have occurred, a milkout may be called for. This call may be by breed association rule, or by request of an authorized representative of the national breed association, the judge, the Ethics Committee, or show management.

If an animal is exhibited and a violation of the Show Ring Code of Ethics is subsequently suspected, investigated, and determined to have occurred, the violation will be reported to the Ethics Committee and show management for action. The Exhibitor will be notified of the violation and the supporting evidence and invited to defend or explain the allegations.

Violations are subject to the disciplinary provisions of show management, the state in which the show occurs, and the national dairy breed association. Sanctions may include any one, or combination of the following:

- forfeiture or return of awards, prizes, premiums or proceeds;
- written letter of reprimand to the owner, exhibitor, fitter and/or absolutely responsible person (the "Exhibitor");
- disqualification of the exhibition livestock from an exhibition;
- disqualification of the Exhibitor from the show;
- publication of offense.

Disqualification may include any or all shows and classes and may be for any number of years.

History: Adopted by PDCA in March 1969, revised March 1971, February 1977, February 1981, February 1986, February 1988, February 1989, February 1992, February 1993, November 1995, April 2002; April 2004.

- To establish a fund to assist worthy dairy project youth in furthering their education.

Location

An auction of the accomplishments of qualifying youth from the current year's Sheboygan County Fair will be held in the Coliseum at a day and time during the County Fair as designated by the Fair Board. A buyers' pre-sale social will be held 9:00 am -10:30 am, with recognition program and auction at 11:00 am in the Coliseum.

Eligibility

Any dairy youth exhibitor (4-H, FFA or Jr. Breed Association) at Sheboygan County Junior Dairy Show in good standing within the Sheboygan County 4-H Dairy Project is eligible to qualify for the sale.

What Sells

A symbol of the youth's achievements will be offered for sale.

In the event an individual won two of the lots above (i.e. Supreme Champion Female or Supreme Champion Heifer and a showmanship division) the second place individual from the respective showmanship lot will sell allowing a representative from each showmanship division to sell.

In the event an individual won both the Supreme Champion female and Supreme Champion Heifer honor, the individual exhibiting the reserve Supreme Champion heifer will sell.

The opportunity for the Reserve Supreme Showperson to sell if the individual does not already have a lot selling (this basket will only sell if the Reserve Supreme Showperson is a second place showmanship class winner and does not have the Supreme Cow or Supreme Heifer lot in the auction). If the Reserve Supreme Showman is a showmanship class winner, the individual automatically sells since they are a class winner.
